Scovill Made "Gripper" Fasteners On Display

This display of Scovill home-attached "Gripper" Fasteners was exhibited at the American Home Economics Association Convention at St. Louis, Missouri late in June. Under the direction of H. David Ward of the Button & Fastener Sales Office, the Scovill exhibit was manned by Miss Bernice Borse, a teacher of Home Economics in the high school at North Grosvenordale, Connecticut, and Miss Patricia Hiatt, a Home Economics major, who has completed her Junior year at Indiana University. R. C. Chapman of the Oakville Division also attended.

Home-attached "Gripper" Fasteners have been a Scovill product since before the war. At that time, however, they were sold on a limited direct mail basis as we were perfecting a simplified method for home attaching and market testing. Since the end of the war, production facilities have increased to the extent that we are now able to produce these Home Attachment "Gripper" Fasteners in volume for sale in the notions departments of retail stores.

The four-day display was held at the National Convention of The American Home Economics Association whose members are teachers of home economics in high schools, colleges and universities; or people directly connected with Home Economics in some form or other. The two very capable young ladies in attendance did a wonderful job in demonstrating the "Gripper" Fasteners to the 2500 to 3000 people attending, who, in turn, teach home sewing classes of hundreds of thousands of high school and college students across the country.

The interest shown in our product was tremendous. The women who stopped at our booth were enthused over the practical nature of our product and the surprising ease of application. One of the most interesting and appealing features of the Home Attachment "Gripper" Fastener is the fact that no special tools are needed to attach them. All that is required is the Fastener, a pencil with an eraser, a spool and a hammer.

Girls' Club Outing Sunday, August 10

The Girls' Club annual summer outing will be held this Sunday. The girls were originally scheduled to go to Rye Beach by boat but, as these plans had to be cancelled, the group will travel by chartered bus.

Madelyn Osswalt, in charge of the event, says the girls will meet in front of the Foremen's Clubhouse to leave at 9:00 a.m. All planning to attend are asked to get their names in to the committee by Wednesday.

Annual SERA Meeting Thursday, August 7th

The annual meeting of the SERA will be held Thursday, August 7th, at 8:00 p.m. in the Employment Office Reception Room.

The nominating committee will present at least two candidates for each executive office and for each chair on the Board of Directors. The meeting will then be opened for further nominations from the floor, two nominations to be accepted for each executive office and ten nominations for the Board of Directors.

Any member of the SERA is eligible for nomination but must be at the meeting to accept nomination. All are urged to attend the meeting to nominate their choice for office for the coming year.

New Company-Union Agreement Signed

Effective Date — August 2

A new Agreement between the Scovill Company, for its Main Plant and Waterville Division, and the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, C.I.O. for Scovill Brass Workers' Union, Local 569, was signed on July 30, 1947. The Agreement became effective on August 2, 1947 and will be in effect for a period of two years.

The new Agreement stipulates that the general wage level may be opened on or after May 1, 1948. Copies of the new Agreement will be printed for distribution to all concerned.

The Taft-Hartley Act

The hue and cry subsides. As a matter of fact the noise against the bill seems to have been from those who will lose their "special privilege" status under its terms. We refer to union leaders who will be more subject to the wishes of the union rank and file under the terms of the Taft-Hartley Act. And to the unions that have resorted to racketeering.

As a general statement, the Act will not change the relationship between Company and Union in most cases. We do not see that it will in Scovill. It does, however, protect the individual union member from some of the past union practices which any fair-minded individual must deplore.

All union leaders do not see in the Act the fearful consequences to Unionism that are found in it by its more rabid opponents. Except that it might be bad politics on their part, we believe many leaders would publicly endorse the majority of the provisions of the Act.

As a basic proposition our government is of, by and for free citizens. There seems little wrong in extending that principle to Labor Unions.

East Plant—1947 Winners

The East Plant was victorious again this year in the East-West Competition at Woodtick July 19, taking 4 out of 5 events. Above are East Plant team captains, Everett Murphy, horseshoes, Irving Honyotski, volleyball, Jack O'Keefe, tug-o-war, Tony Jacovich, softball, and Tony DiGioia, bocci, after receiving the Alan C. Curtiss trophy awarded each year to the victors. Two-time winners, the East Plant will gain permanent possession of the trophy on its third win.

Mill Division Leads In Injuries Reduction

The Mills Division, for perhaps the first time, has shown a frequency rate for Lost Time Injuries which was almost twice as good as the Manufacturing Division—a reversal of the usual situation.

The Lost Time Injury report for the month of June also shows that the plant injury frequency rate was lower in that month than in any other single month since 1938.

While the report shows that all divisions have made real progress in reducing injuries during the first half of 1947, it is evident flagrant "chance-taking" still exists.

While a relatively small number of employees are "chance takers," the risk to life and future earning power of these employees who choose to do things wrong is still much too great.

Let's not be among these few who are sure to discover—possibly too late to avoid serious injuries — that "it just doesn't pay."

A New And Different Word Puzzle

(Ed's Note:—This is the first of a series of Word Puzzles, originally designed and made up by Pat O'Connell of the Slide Fastener Division. It's new, it's different—we know you'll find it fun. The solution will be found on Page 4.)

Gleanings Around The Plant

By Russ Hickman

From "Divers News" published by our Schrader friends, we find this nifty which, after reading, causes us to remark, "There's many a true word spoken from the chest."

"Under the spreading chestnut tree
Is NOT the place to stack your jack!
The smart guy buys his Savings Bonds
And 4 for 3's what he gets back!"

TOM TAYLOR, North Rolling Mill, enjoys the out-of-town baseball games he plays with "The Barons," but after dropping seven straight, sings "When will the sun shine for me" in hopes that a melody will put his team in the win column.

JIM GIBBONS, the Wire Mill philosopher, spans across "A pat on the back develops character if administered often enuf, young enuf and low enuf."

NICK CANONICO, North Mill, enjoyed his vacation in Maine and Canada. He scouted around a bit and would have gone hunting if it had been deer season.

MARGARET DWYER, Building 112, Hospital, asked a patient from Hot Forge, "What happened?" "Somebody trod on my pipe," he replied. "Well, that couldn't have hurt or caused an injury," MARGARET told him. Then he explained it was his windpipe.

A story that strikes our fancy concerns a tramp knocking on the door of an English inn named "George and the Dragon," and asking the landlady who opened the door if she could spare a poor man a bite to eat. "No!" she shouted, slamming the door. After a few minutes the tramp again knocked at the door, and when the landlady reappeared, he asked, "Now could I have a few words with George?"

Entering the office section of the Main Hospital we suddenly ran into a blaze of light. On closer inspection we saw it was a diamond on the right finger of charming RUTH HUDNER. When is he going to march to the tune of "For Me and My Gal," RUTH?

Hits And Bits

Was it ED BENGTON, Comptroller's Office, who remarked to E. H. DAVIS, Insurance Office, "Nowadays the earth revolves on its taxes?"

Also, LES YOUNG, B & F Office, fishing with LES HART, Cutting Room, at the shore, suddenly yelled, "From the bite I'm getting I know I'm going to pull up a new kind of fish." He did—it was an old tin can.

Appreciating the loyal friendship of Guard CLARK CODDINGTON, ART WALKER, Manufacturing Tool, brought this custodian of Hayden Street Gate a big bunch of red roses. The suddenness of it all caused CLARK to blush the hue of the roses.

Fishy Stuff

When you hear of a "Wet and dry fishing competition," you figure it must be with flies or something to do with the weather. The private competition arranged between CHARLIE RIETDYKE, Foremen's Room, and JOHN MATALUNAS, Drill and Tap, is to be "Wet and Dry" in the sense that if JOHN wins he gets a ? with beer chaser, and if CHARLIE wins, his is to be a cola or a cream soda.

"What's brewing?" we asked Guard ED ROCHE while we were uncapping a couple of bottles of malt extract after he had returned from angling adventures. Then what he told us sounded very fishy until "the longest perch ever," he caught, turned out to be a pickerel.

Guards Off Guard Offer No Protection

A couple of sorry looking specimens and, yet, they might have been at work protecting you. Guards are one of the most important safety items set up for your protection. They should be kept, at all times, on machines or with machines. If they are damaged, new ones must be made. Report guards needing repairs at once. Protect them from damage so that they can protect you.

Large Crowd Attends Mill Street Dance

The expected street-jamming crowd took over Mill Street July 17 at the Annual Block Dance sponsored by the SERA and the Waterbury Park Dept.

The dance, attended by an estimated 2,200, was the scene of a pleasant evening enjoyed by both young and old alike who danced to the music of Francis Delfino and his orchestra.

The dance was the fourth block dance of the summer.

Within Our Gates

By Jack Driscoll

TERRY LARKIN, formerly of the Rod Mill, says his dog won't eat meat on Friday. He was asked why and replied, "We won't give it to him."

GEORGE COLLETO, 68 Building, has an ambition—wants to be an undertaker. He's going to start from the ground "down."

Sympathy is expressed by Scovill friends to JOHN THOMPSON who lost his brother and to DANIEL SHUGRUE whose wife passed away.

EDDIE CLARK of Hot Forge claims the hottest day was when he was down by the City Hall. He said it was so hot that Ben Franklin was sitting with only a tee shirt on drinking a bottle of Seven-up.

EDWIN MORRIS was in the big city last week and ate in the automat. He put in a nickel and milk came out. P.S. I put in a plugged nickel recently and the manager came out.

DAVE JACKSON, Waterville, claims you have to be a he-man for the ladies to fall for you, for instance—an ice man. Well, at least the ice man has his "pick."

DENNY SHANAHAN can hardly wait until he gets up to Cape Cod. No, it's not the leg parade he's interested in but the fine fishing. DENNY said that the fish are so large there that you have to use clubs instead of fishing rods.

FRANK "WINDY" SABIS has learned that you can kid with, talk to and smile at women but can never win an argument with one.

"Honey HORSESHOE, BARNYARD," HONYOTSKI certainly has a keen eye. He surely can toss those ringers!

HENRY "SHORTY" BISAILLON of the Shipping Room decided his wife needed a vacation after putting up 84 quarts of blueberries, so he took his whole family up to Canada for a vacation. "SHORTY'S" hired man took care of the cattle while he was gone and was beginning to think that the farm was his when "SHORTY" failed to return. Seems as though he had a bit of car trouble in Pittsfield, Mass. "SHORTY" can't understand why everything has to happen to him.

Three Scovillites Receive Service Awards

Louis Vancelette

On July 31 LOUIS VANCELETTE of the Tube Mill was scheduled to receive his gold pin for 25 years of continuous service with Scovill. Employed continuously by the Company since 1922, Mr. Vancelette's first job with the Company was with hand screw machine work. He later worked as a section foreman and inspector in the Tube Mill, was transferred to the job of inspector and gauger in July, 1946, also in the Tube Mill.

Born and raised in Waterbury, Mr. Vancelette is married and the father of two children—both girls. One of his daughters, Evelyn Foli, is also a Scovill employee working as time-keeper in East Plant Machine.

The world of sports holds a great deal of interest for Louis. Interested in baseball and football, he attends many New York and local games, also enjoys playing a good game of cards once in a while. Louis finds his Scovill work interesting and enjoys it.

Briefs From Our Retired Folks

By George Hubbard

THOMAS MULLIGAN, retired in 1928 because of ill health, has enjoyed himself at his home in Marion. Thomas lives with his brother and although not in the best of health, he says that by each of them being "half a man" they manage to keep things going. Fond of flowers, Mr. Mulligan has a small garden which he enjoys working in the summertime when he is able to get about the yard.

MINNA HAGE, after being employed by Scovill for fifty-six years, retired about two years ago. She enjoys being able to go and come as she pleases. With a small garden and household duties to work at, she manages to keep herself busy a good share of the time. She is delighted to meet and talk with Scovillites.

FRED PORTER, who retired from active service with the Company about one year ago, lives on Kelly Road in Middlebury and keeps busy looking after his home and doing some of the household duties his wife is unable to do. Although Mrs. Porter is not able to get around very well, being confined to a chair, they both very much enjoy having their friends come to call on them. Because of their cheerful outlook on life, it is well worth anyone's time to stop and have a chat with them.

Pasquale DeSantis

Celebrating 40 years of continuous service with the Company as of July 20th is PASQUALE DESANTIS of the Waterville Division's Plating Room. Hired by the Company back in 1907, "Patsy," who was born in Italy, came to work for Scovill the same year he arrived at our shores. First hired in the Dip Room, "Patsy" was soon transferred to the Plating Room and has spent all of his years with Scovill working as a Plater.

Owning his own home on Plank Road, city, Mr. DeSantis married in the United States and has raised a family of five children — two sons and three daughters. One of his sons, while serving overseas during the war, had a chance to visit members of the family still living in Italy. "Patsy" himself has no plans of returning to his native land, however.

With a large garden at his home, "Patsy" claims to raise "just about everything" in it and manages to supply the family with a great variety of vegetables during the year. He enjoys spending his spare time working in the garden and manages to do so quite often.

Frank Grenier

First coming to work for the Company in 1922, FRANK GRENIER completed 25 years of continuous Scovill service on Thursday, July 17th and was scheduled to receive his gold pin on that day.

Hired as a toolsetter in the Waterville Division's Threading Department, Frank has continued on in the same capacity up to the present time, has proved himself to be a "good, steady worker" according to his Foreman, Neil Granth.

Born in Montreal, Canada, Frank came to Waterbury with his family at the age of two years, has lived here ever since. He is now married and the father of one son, Bruce, three years old. With a summer home in Madison, Connecticut, to enjoy on weekends, Frank says that "puttering

Home Service Aid To Vets, Servicemen

The Waterbury Home Service Office, headed by an ex-G.I. and manned by a staff of five professional social workers, offers aid to servicemen, veterans and their dependents without involving them in more of that "old red tape."

For servicemen and their dependents:—Home Service maintains field directors in military camps here and abroad who serve as means of communication with the serviceman's local Red Cross Chapter. The local Home Service office stands ready to aid the family of the man in service with information about government forms, help in communication with the serviceman, emergency financial aid, securing information required by the military for emergency furloughs.

For veterans and their dependents:—Home Service does many of the same jobs for veterans as it does for active servicemen. Veterans may ask for and get help in filling out government forms and in applying for pensions and disability claims, emergency financial assistance, information and guidance.

Home Service is part of the American Red Cross—one of the twelve services offered by the Waterbury Chapter.

The Waterbury Office of Home Service is located at the Red Cross Chapter House, 165 Grove Street, and is open from 9 'til 5 every day—Saturdays until noon. In emergency cases, call 5-1137 during above hours; Saturday afternoon, nights and Sundays, call 4-9295.

Courage

Guest Writer—Edwin C. Bradley, Jr.

Are we losing the courage — the guts, if you will — that our forefathers had? Are we losing the willingness to sacrifice and work for a worthwhile goal?

Our country, as a nation, came into being because a group of hardy, courageous men and women wanted liberty to live as individuals, with individual thoughts and aspirations. Our forebearers didn't just hope that events would straighten themselves out; they put their combined efforts to work and with courage overcame serious obstacles so that these United States were made into the most powerful nation in the world.

The land on which we live, the forests, the mineral deposits, the water and air, and all of our profusion of natural resources are no different than they have been since the beginning of time. The change that has taken place is in our own thoughts and willingness to work concertedly and intelligently and forget petty individual differences.

It is our individual faults — not the fault of our land. We must stop wasting time and effort in groaning and complaining.

Never before in the history of the world have so many people wanted so much for so little effort in return. We expect everything to appear by virtue of some wondrous Aladdin's lamp. It will not! We must work for what we want — not blindly and aimlessly — but with intelligence and courage.

Today, our democratic system is creaking and groaning a little—but it still has the power to carry itself and, on its back, the rest of the world.

Review the situation sanely. Think about it with your own mind — don't dogmatically accept the mouthings of people who consciously and unconsciously are weakening us as a nation. We are making our existence unnecessarily complex by stewing over the faults of yesterday, the troubles of today, and fears of tomorrow.

Let us first thank a good God for all of the advantages He has given us individually and as a nation. Stop moaning about the things that are wrong and have the courage to work to make them right.

Remember this — there is nothing that can happen tomorrow that isn't beginning today and, with determination and courage, we can see that it begins right.

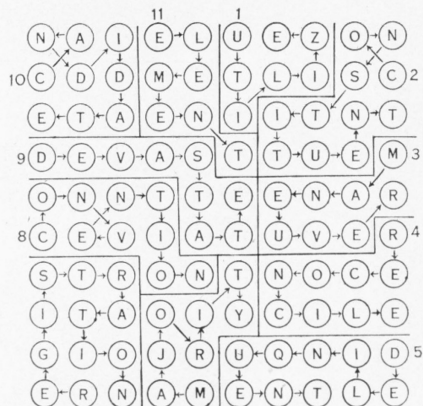

"Miss Scovill" To Try For "Miss Connecticut"

Louise Bienvenu, winner of the "Miss Scovill" title, will be a candidate for the "Miss Connecticut" crown in the August 17th contest at the Arbeiter Maenner Chor Park, Milford Turnpike, Allingtown, Connecticut.

Winner over eight other candidates, Miss Bienvenu represented the Oakville Division in the Plant-wide Beauty Contest at Woodtick in July, 1946. That same year, she won the "Miss Hamilton Park" and the "Miss Quasapaug" titles. In the spring of this year she captured the "Miss Waterbury" crown.

Louise is the daughter of Gerard and Irene Bienvenu, who are Oakville Division employees. Romeo and Armand Bienvenu, of the Extruded Rod Mill, are her uncles.

USE YOUR HEAD TO... ... BEAT THE HEAT

Six Employees Placed On Retirement List

LEWIS W. CARRINGTON of the Waterville Division has joined the ranks of retired Scovillites after 54 years of continuous service. First starting to work for the Company in 1887, Mr. Carrington's outstanding service record at the time of his retirement dates farther back than any other active employee's although that record is not continuous until 1893.

Working as an order clerk and vaultman at the time he retired, Mr. Carrington plans to "just stay home and relax" in the future.

MICHAEL J. HANLEY, who has been with the Plant Protection Department since June, 1940, has been placed on the retirement list as of July 1. Mike was first hired by the Company back in 1904 in the Matthew and Willards branch, was later transferred to the American Pin Company and for the past seven years has worked as watchman in Plant Protection.

Mr. Hanley's retirement closes his 43 years of continuous Scovill service.

JOHN ANDERSON, toolmaker in the Blanking and Drawing Tool Room, was retired from active service with the Company as of July 21st.

Born in Sweden, Mr. Anderson arrived in the United States in 1893, has been a steady employee of the Tool and Machine Division during his years with Scovill. His retirement follows 33 years of continuous service.

JOSEPH PERNEREWski, employee of the West Plant Machine Room, has been placed on the retirement list as of July 21.

Mr. Pernerewski, born in Poland, came to live in America in 1907 and started working for Scovill in 1920. He holds a continuous service record of 27 years with the Company and was working as a machinist at the time he retired from active service.

HUGH SMITH of the Repair Room, who has been a Scovillite for 25 consecutive years, retired from active service as of June 1st.

Coming to the United States in 1886 from West-Meath, Ireland, his birthplace, Mr. Smith started out in the Waterville Division and was transferred to the Main Plant in 1929. He worked as a bench worker previous to his retirement. Bert Smith, Lipstick Room Supervisor, is Hugh's son.

KAZIMERAS ZILUNAS, Casting Shop employee, retired from active Scovill service as of July 1. Born in Lithuania, Mr. Zilunas came to our shores in 1887 and has been a steady employee of the Company since November, 1922, a total of more than 24 years.

Having worked in the Casting Shop since he first came to work for Scovill, Mr. Zilunas was working as barrel man and sweeper when he retired. His last day of work was January 6.

Horseshoe League Completes 1st Round

The IRA Horseshoe League, which Scovill entered this year for the first time, completed its first round last week with the Scovill entry coming out with 15 wins and 49 losses.

Playing every Wednesday evening at 6:30 at the Municipal Stadium, Scovill's four-man team consists of Everett Murphy, East Mill; Erving Hon-yotski, Extruded Rod; Charles Mar-cellus, Classification No. 32, and Am-brose Carey, Finishing, with George Hubbard, Compensation, captain.

The second round got under way last Wednesday night when the Scovill team met the U. S. Rubber entry.

Rod & Gun Fishing Meet Attended By 50

Fifty Scovillites turned out for the Rod and Gun Club's fishing contest held at Woodtick on July 19 and made the competition a success. With ideal weather, the fishermen managed to land some fine catches in the black bass and bullhead classes.

Prizes of $4, $3 and $2 were awarded by the Rod and Gun Club for the largest fish caught in each class. Winners in the black bass class were Henry Miller, Lee Reid, and William Soden; in calico bass, Stanley Zaleski and Lee Reid took the awards; for pickerel, John Degnan was the only winner; Charles Semetas, Bernard Versekas and Bernard Yanovich took the awards for perch; for bullheads, Bernard Yanovich, John Degnan, Ed DeBisschop and Jim Littlejohn received the awards.

Scovill Varsity Takes Two More

The Scovill Varsity Softball team, which came through the first round of play with nary a loss and which is now the official first-round city industrial champion, is keeping up its stellar brand of ball in the second round.

Having won seven out of their seven games played in the 1st round, the Scovillites have suffered only one defeat so far this year which was at the hands of Gene Torrence, star hurler for the Chase team, who pitched a two-hit game over the Scovill entry.

The excellent hitting of Joe Joyce, Jim Crowe and Joe Begnal, along with the outstanding defensive play of Bobby DeLeon and Bill Rotella stood out in the two victories garnered by the SERA over the Somers Brass and Bristol entries.

The next scheduled game for the Scovill varsity will take place tonight at the Huntington Avenue softball diamonds. The Scovillites will play a team from Naugatuck Rubber for the fourth second-round game.

The first Annual Reeves Fishing Competition was held at Woodtick on August 2 and will be followed by another on August 16. Scovillites interested in joining the August 16th contest are asked to register in groups of three, sending names in to Charles Rietdyke, General Foremen's Office, not later than August 14. The contests are open to all.

Scovill Bocci Team

The newly-organized Scovill bocci team has met and downed its first two opponents, Naugatuck Rubber and Waterbury Factory, and will play off its third match on Tuesday, August 5th, against a team from Chase. Scovill team members are Louis Nosenzo, Angelo Cantino, Quartilio Paoloni, Pete Vellucci and Tony DeGioia, captain.

Before the start of the Chase game, to be held at Woodtick at 6 P.M., there will be a short exhibition given by Louis Nosenzo, an old-timer at the game. All Scovillites are invited.

Scenes At The East-West Competition

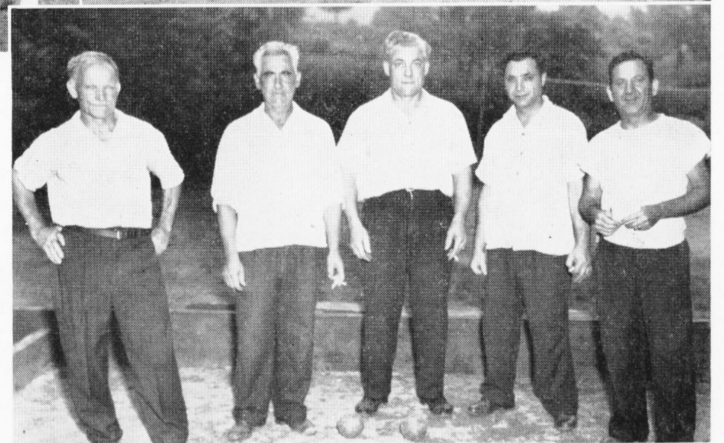

Record Catches Reported For Woodtick Fishing

Three Scovillites fared well at Woodtick the weekend of July 26th when the season's record catches were reported for black bass and bullheads. Wally Bergstrom of Milling and Grinding caught a black bass measuring 20-3/4 inches, record catch of the season so far, and found himself in close competition with Les Hart, Cutting Room, who managed to get a 20-1/2 inch.

Not to be outdone was Pat Hogan, West Plant Machine Room, who caught the largest bullhead of the season measuring 19-1/4 inches.

The East Plant repeated its last year's victory over the West Plant as it took four out of five scheduled events in the Annual East-West competition held at Woodtick July 19. The Easterners proved themselves tops in softball, bocci, horseshoes and tug-o-war, while the West Plant volleyball team outshone the East Plant players by winning 2 out of 3 games. Pictured on the right, bottom, are bocci players Louis Nosenzo, Angelo Cantino, Quartilio Paoloni, Pete Vellucci and Tony DeGioia. Right, above, are the volleyball teams in action, Jack O'Keefe hitting the ball. Pictured above, left, are members of the East Plant's victorious softball team with Frank Williams, winning pitcher, at far left; Manager and Captain Tony Jacovich sixth from the left.

Mid-Season Scene - Scovillites' Gardens

Out at the Woodtick plots, George Ward of Extruded Rod does a little raking while his young son and daughter assist in the weed pulling.

Ed Martin, Yard Department, and Mrs. Martin keep their garden at Woodtick spic and span with dusting powder and "elbow grease."

From this view of his garden at home in Terryville, Earl Skilton of the Waterville Division can well take a breathing spell from the work which is going to mean plenty of produce from this fine garden.

Bill Foley, Power Engineer, pauses for a second in his labors at the garden he shares with daughter Rose Schoeck, Employment Office. Rose says Dad does most of the work in their garden on Frost Road.

"No, don't pull that!" seems to be Erv Honyotski's plea to the Mrs. as they toil together in their garden at Woodtick. He's of the Rod Mill.

Howard Morris, of the Casting Shop, and Mrs. Morris stand knee deep in their potato patch at Woodtick. Howard holds up one of the "spuds."

Make Use Of Your Garden Surplus

Do you have some garden produce left over after you've eaten all you can and canned all you can? Don't, for goodness sake, let it go to waste!

If you do have some left over, give a call to the Waterbury Day Nursery (phone 3-3556). Miss Sarah Ball, director, will gratefully accept any excess produce from home gardening efforts. She says, "We use what we can and what we can't, we can."

The Day Nursery, a Red Feather agency, helps contribute in its own support to its food supply by obtaining donations of fruit and vegetables from home garden surpluses and canning and preserving during the growing season.

The Nursery provides all-day care for pre-school children whose mothers must be out of the home because of employment or other reasons. School age children are cared for after school hours and during vacations. Day Nursery is operated as a supplement to a good home environment — children are provided with supervised and instructional recreation, social training, physical check-ups, balanced hot diets. The Day Nursery is located at 46 Kingsbury Street.

Set Yourself Up With Limeade Setups

When you order limeade in Paris, you get the fixings all on a tray—the limes, sugar, a pitcher filled with ice cubes and water, a squeezer, knife, spoon and glasses. When you want a limeade here in the States, you can have all this flipp and something extra—big, juicy Florida limes as the basis of your beverage. Serving limeades thus, everyone can see to it that his or her drink is sweetened to his own preference. And people love to muddle their own mixture.

Florida limes are in local markets in good quantity from June through September to afford easy refreshment during the dog-days of summer. Besides being grand for limeades, they make mighty good salads and desserts, too—nutritious and cooling accompaniments to dinner or luncheon. Here are two of the most popular recipes:

Leisure Time Footwear For The Sewer

A complete wardrobe of footwear for leisure moments is within easy reach of the girl who likes to sew. For lounging at home, there are cozy felt moccasins with bright appliques on the front or more feminine backless quilted scuffs — sequin dotted and ruffle edged. For beachwear, you can choose between a pair of sandals made from heavy cotton with cork inner soles and espadrilles of printed cotton with ribbon lacings. Call, write, or come in to The Bulletin Office for a copy of the direction leaflet on how to make these shoes at home. The leaflet is available there for your use.

Avocado Lime Salad

- 2 ripe avocados
- 2 medium ripe tomatoes
- 4 tablespoons diced cucumber
- 2 teaspoons grated onion
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2-1/2 tablespoons lime juice
- Lettuce cups

Peel and mash avocados. Peel and dice tomatoes; add with cucumber to mashed avocados; add grated onion, salt and lime juice; mix thoroughly and chill. Serve mounds of avocado mixture in lettuce cups.

Lime Sponge Pudding

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons lime juice
- 2 teaspoons grated lime rind

Mix sugar, flour and salt; add slightly beaten egg yolks, milk, lime juice and rind. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites; pour into greased baking dish; place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (250°F.) for 45 minutes. Cool and serve. Makes 4 servings.

Try 'Em - They're True

Fruit stains may be removed from table linen by rubbing with camphor. Do this before wetting the stain with water.

To remove ink stains from cotton goods, try using a raw potato as soon as the spot is discovered. Rub the potato well into the stain, then sponge the material with water.

If your table linen contains spots of chocolate or cocoa that refuse to come out in laundering, try Javell water on them.

When oil is spilled on a rug or furniture, the stain may be removed entirely by the application of limewater.

Silver spoons discolored by egg may be cleaned by rubbing them with salt before washing. Wash in hot, soapy water.

Don't Think It's Too Hot To Eat

Many people think it's too hot to eat during these summer months, but do you realize that when you feel "done in" from the heat you'd feel a lot better and really revived if you would eat some food? Maybe your feeling of exhaustion is due to skipping that meal you think you don't want or need because of the heat. You know inadequate meals, which actually means improper diet, can cause poor appetite, loss of weight, headaches and digestive upsets.

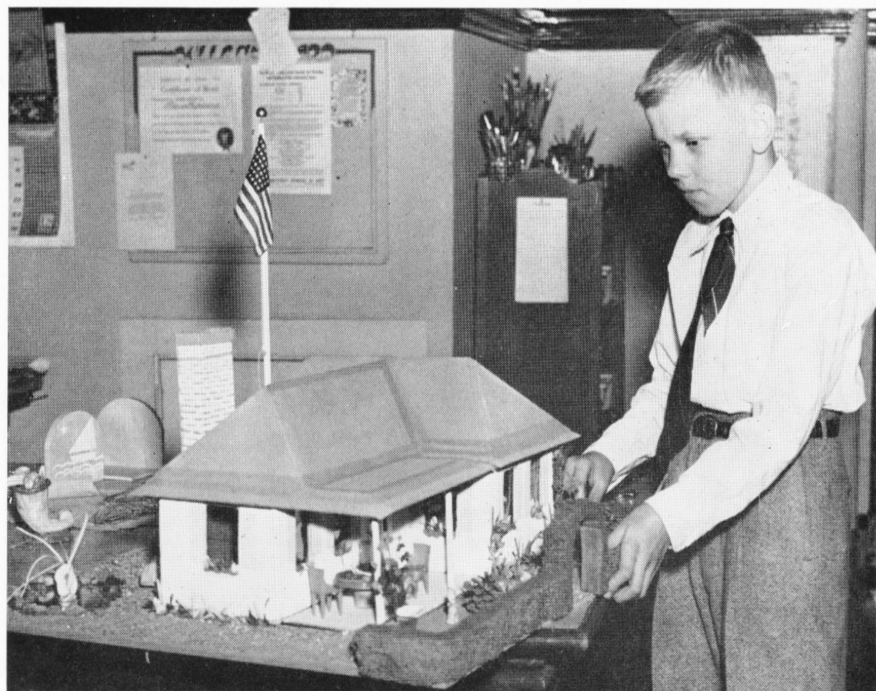

In the summer time as at any other time during the year, you need the kinds of foods that build your body tissues, protect your health and give you energy. Your body needs the same kinds of food protection in July and August as it does in January when snow is on the ground. Don't neglect your health and miss out on summer fun because you think it's too hot to eat.

Alaska In The Summer

Try a Baked Alaska tonight for dessert. Stop on your way home and buy half a dozen sponge cake shells and a pint of ice cream, any flavor, for a Baked Alaska. When you're ready for dessert, make a stiff meringue of four egg whites, 1/4 cup sugar, and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla. Fill the sponge cake shells with ice cream, cover the ice cream entirely with meringue, brown in a very hot oven (450°F.) for approximately five minutes, and serve at once. Meringue insulates the cream so that you get a delicious combination of hot and cold. A pint of ice cream makes six desserts.

To make an easy company meal, precede your Baked Alaska with cold meat, toasted, buttery French bread, a tossed salad, and your favorite beverage. Incidentally, the egg yolks will keep till you want them if you cover with a tablespoon of water and store in the refrigerator.

Talented 11-year old Chester Gursky is pictured above with the miniature house he created for his art class at Notre Dame Academy. Started in his art work by his third grade teacher at Bunker Hill School, Chester has since progressed a great deal, has received a lot of praise for his work so far.
