Knowing Scovill Better

During September and October the Mills Division acted as host to approximately 8,000 Scovill employees and members of their families. As a result, we are sure those who took advantage of this opportunity to see the Mills have a much better appreciation of the vastness and complexity of this basic Company operation.

What these visitors saw were machines, some costing as much as $1,250,000 each, working brass bars and billets into various shapes and lengths to meet individual customer specifications.

What they saw did not just happen. Over the years Scovill has pooled its resources to provide the types of product and kinds of service its customers demand. With this performance it has gained the confidence of investors who have put their money into the Company's expansion. They are the "silent partners" of the men and women who work for Scovill and whose combined talents have helped build the Company.

These visitors saw the results of the spirit and teamwork which make the Company what it is today.

Arthur P. Hickcox

Vice-President

Los Angeles Office And Warehouse Move

Our Los Angeles warehouse and sales offices have moved to new and larger quarters at 6464 East Flotilla St., effective October 11, 1954.

District Manager Kenneth M. Reid explained that this move was necessary to provide additional space to maintain warehouse stocks for the Los Angeles and Pacific Coast areas. Items stocked include brass and aluminum mill products, lawn and garden sprinklers, drug and cosmetic containers, zippers, buttons, snap fasteners, and other apparel closures, aircraft and industrial fasteners, plumbing goods and automotive products.

The new location, under the resident supervision of Walter R. Allen, will serve as headquarters for the mill and manufacturing sales departments of the main plant in Waterbury; Waterville Division at Waterville, Conn., and A. Schrader's Son Division of Brooklyn, New York.

Scovill has had a Los Angeles office for the past 29 years.

New York Exhibit

Scovill is exhibiting the new GRIPPER ZIPPER for jackets at the convention of the National Outerwear and Sportswear Association.

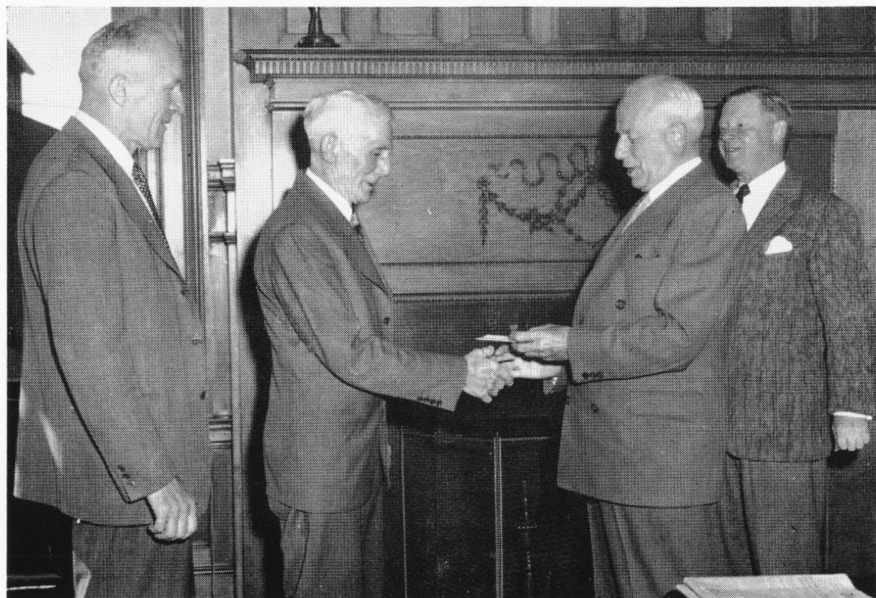

The convention is being attended by suppliers of the outerwear and sportswear industries, and is being held at the Waldorf Astoria, Oct. 31-Nov. 3.

Retired Folks To Hear A.P. Hickcox

Vice-President, Assistant General Manager and Director of Purchases Arthur P. Hickcox will be guest speaker at the October 19th meeting of the Retired Folks Club at the Scovill Girls' Clubhouse.

This is a "command performance" for Mr. Hickcox as his last talk to the group, about a year and a half ago, was enjoyed so much by those attending (and, incidentally, Mr. Hickcox also) that they have asked to hear him again.

Herman Strumpf Awarded 40-Year Pin

Eight Main Plant Employees Retire

ARTHUR J. DEROUIN, Blanking & Drawing Tool, was retired with benefits to start October 1, 1954.

Mr. Derouin came to Scovill on October 18, 1916, and has a continuous service record of over 32 years. Always in the Tool Division, he was serving as a toolmaker in Blanking and Drawing Tool when he retired.

MARIE PINTER, Lacquer Room, was retired with benefits to start on October 1, 1954.

Mrs. Pinter came to Scovill on November 4, 1912, and has a continuous service record of over 40 years. Except for a short period in Mfg. Packing, she has always been in the Lacquer Room. At the time she retired, Mrs. Pinter was serving as a bench inspector gauger in that department.

ANNA EGAN, Lacquer, was retired with benefits to start October 1, 1954.

Mrs. Egan came to Scovill on May 15, 1916 and has a continuous service record of over 32 years. At the time she retired she was serving as a reliever in the Lacquer Room.

ELIZABETH GUILFOILE, Mfg. Packing, was retired with benefits to start on October 1, 1954.

Miss Guilfoile came to Scovill on October 1, 1907, and has a continuous service record of over 47 years. Always in Mfg. Packing, she was serving as an inspector packer when she retired.

ANGELO PACE, Sanitation, was retired with benefits to start on September 13, 1954.

Mr. Pace came to Scovill on April 4, 1910, and has a service record of 37 years. Although most of his years here were spent in the Plating Room, he was serving as a maintenance man when he retired.

MARTIN POCOSKI, Stamp Room, was retired with benefits to start on September 27, 1954.

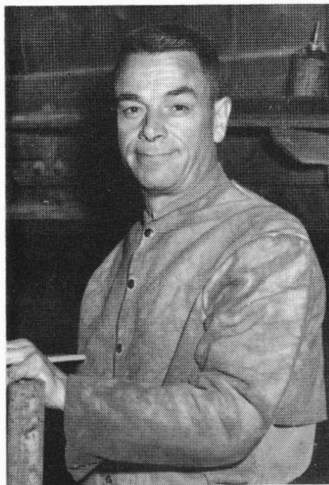

Mr. Pocoski came to Scovill on July 8, 1916, and has a continuous service record of over 34 years. Always in the Stamp Room, he was serving as stamp operator until March 19, 1954 when he was forced to leave due to illness.

NICOLA A. PORCARO, Chucking, was retired with benefits to start on October 1, 1954.

Mr. Porcaro came to Scovill on May 12, 1915, and has a continuous service record of over 34 years. In the Chucking Dept. since it was formed, he was serving as a miscellaneous machine operator when he retired.

Your Vote

If you are a newcomer to this community or have reached voting age this past year we assume you have qualified yourself to vote by registering. If not, you have lost for this year a basic right of American citizenship. But registration only protects a right that means nothing unless you use it in the voting booth.

This year's election is very important, especially for Congress where the two parties are so closely represented that every vote will count. It is not enough to "hold a conviction" for or against this or that issue in an election. To make your conviction count you have to put it to work in the voting booth on Election Day. Remember that the greatest threat to the American Way of Life is the "free rider" citizen.

"See you at the polls!"

Pinochle Tournament

Pinochle got under way at the Girls' Clubhouse on Thursday, October 7.

The three team captains for this year are Erving Honyotski of the Rod Mill, Bill Mancini of the Waterville Div. and John Matulunas of ASMD.

Evening team scores for October 7 were: Honyotski—29,355, Mancini—29,045, and Matulunas—27,875.

Individual high for that night was taken by Vic Baker with 4,570 points. John Matulunas was runnerup with 4,395.

Waterville Foremen

Approximately 35 attended the first outing of the Waterville Foremen's Association which was held September 11, 1954 at the home of Leon French on Moss Farm Road.

Among the guests was Bill Black who had a great deal of fun meeting with his old friends again. Bill is certainly enjoying his retirement.

The foremen, along with many of the Waterville officials, enjoyed a fine day of good fellowship, games and good food, which was served by Leon French and his assistants.

Kids Hallowe'en Party

Sunday, October 31, is Hallowe'en. Employee and neighborhood children, 12 years old and younger, are invited to celebrate the occasion at the annual Hallowe'en party at Doolittle Hall on Friday, October 29.

Sponsored by the SERA, the party will get underway by 7 p.m. There will be games and refreshments and prizes will be awarded for costumes.

Cribbage Doings

On October 12, the cribbage men had their second night of official play.

As in previous years, the players are divided into two groups — the American League under the direction of Captain Earl Odell and the National League under Captain Henry Nault.

At the end of play on the 12th, the American League were leading the tournament with a total score of 10,512 points while the National League has a total of 10,502 points.

Evening scores for the 12th were: Nationals—5,405, Americans—4,988. John Crichton and Erv Honyotski took individual high that night when they totaled 1,497.

Safety Cans Kept "Safe"

Flammable liquid cans are inspected at the Oil House before being sent to production departments, and any cans found to be in bad condition are sent away to be repaired or to be scrapped and are replaced with safe ones.

This centralized service continuously performed by the Oil House assures safe transportation and handling for flammable liquids which are required in many operations in the plant.

Harry Behr (left) is ready to label a new flammable liquid safety can to replace the defective one held by Marshall Steele, Sr. (right).

Hope For The Arthritic!

By Robert W. Butler, M.D.

In the last issue we mentioned the fact that there are about fifty different kinds of arthritis which have been classified. What we failed to say was that sixty percent of all cases fall within two groups: Osteoarthritis and Rheumatoid Arthritis. These types, therefore, cause the greatest concern and the latter poses the greatest challenge.

Osteoarthritis is a disease caused by wear-and-tear. It is a disease of aging, and we'll all presumably have it to a greater or lesser extent if we just live long enough. Patients who develop this type of arthritis are usually over forty, and very frequently are overweight. The joints that are most frequently involved are the knees, the hips and the end joints of the fingers — those which get the most use in the ordinary course of living. You've seen people with knobby fingers — they are the osteoarthritis; and while they may have other deformities of the joints, they usually do not have a great deal of pain and their general health is not likely to be affected by the disease.

Rheumatoid arthritis, however, is a horse of another color and a bird of another feather. It is no respecter of age. The youngest known victim was a little girl who developed the disease at three months of age. Selective service statistics have shown that 6% of the rejections for military service in World War II (30,000 men) were due to rheumatoid arthritis and that 3.7% of the eighteen-year old group had it. This percentage jumped to 11.9% in the group 30 years of age and over.

In a general way, we may say that it is likely to involve different joints than osteoarthritis. This crippler generally affects ankles, elbows and the middle rather than the end joints of the fingers.

The patient with rheumatoid arthritis is sore and sick. There is some swelling and warmth of the joints involved. The patient has symptoms of fatigue, weakness and anemia. There are periods when the worst of the symptoms disappear, only to come back at a later date and do a little more damage.

We don't know what causes it — yet. The disease has been around for centuries, but it is only within recent years that an attempt to find the cause and cure has received the attention it deserves. There have been theories; infection, allergy, disorders of metabolism and glands, but all have failed to stand up as independent causes.

But: There's hope on the horizon. About ten years ago doctors treating this kind of arthritis noticed that it usually disappeared in some patients who became pregnant, and came back after the pregnancy was over. They also noticed that it went away temporarily during attacks of jaundice. The indication was, therefore, that the disease was caused by some change in the output of one or more of the hormones produced by the glands, particularly the adrenal glands (the two small glands lying over the kidneys); and thence came Cortisone, ACTH and the rest.

They've come a long way in the last few years, so if you have it, take hope! Better days are coming!

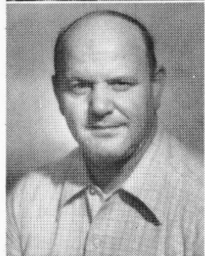

If you can't make the monthly meeting on Tuesday, October 19, don't forget the next meeting on Tuesday, November 16. Be there please.

Evelyn Paoloni was treated to a surprise shower the 14th by some of her Scovill friends and she received such beautiful "Flimsies." Evelyn is getting married the 6th of November and this is the last opportunity to publicly wish her wealth, health and happiness. Yvette Normandin will take over Evelyn's place in the Auto Aircraft & Trans. Sales Office.

The girls in B & F Sales welcomed Jackie Gilland back to the third floor Friday after being down on the second for more than a year.

There will be another trip to Union City, New Jersey, for the Marian Year play "Song of Bernadette" on October 24th. Contact a council member for tickets.

I would like to make another appeal for toys, second hand or new ones or any other donations would be greatly appreciated for Christmas presents for our needy family baskets.

I would also like to make a ditto comment about the same situation that Harry Shewbridge, author of "Life Out East", made last issue. I can only write about people that I know or hear about. If there is any news about a Girls' Club member just drop me a note and I'll gladly add it to the column.

See you at the dance . . .

"Scoops" From Zippers

By Louise Foell

Judy Gyllenhammer's (Salvage) son Albert is now stationed at Chanute Air Field, Ill. He is an instructor on meteorology (weather to you). He is remembered at Crosby High School as an outstanding athlete.

Margaret Bergin was seen shopping at "Sear's" new store in Hamden, Conn. recently.

Louise Pennoni is a very happy grandmother these days; daughter Antoinette gave birth to a son, Steven Richard Unwin, Sept. 29th at Waterbury Hospital.

Anne Moody and Pat Garofalo, our two timekeepers enjoyed a late vacation.

Glad to see Charlie Keeley back to work looking as fit as a fiddle.

Frank Kerner, Jr., son of A. M. Kerner, Slide Fastener Pack, has been awarded his sweater and letter at Georgetown University. Frank is now the referee for both football and basketball.

Slide Fastener boys are still beaming over their recent victory in the softball league. The boys had a banquet and also received gifts from the SERA.

Many years of happiness and good fortune to Gloria Sansoucie and Herb Knutson who were married on October 16th.

We extend our sympathy to Harry Foss, Jr., Slide Fastener Tool Room on the death of his father.

Safety Shoe Store

Safety Shoes are on sale at the Safety Shoe Store in Bldg. 61-A (behind the Spencer Block), every Tuesday and Thursday from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

If those days are inconvenient, call the Safety Office at ext. 888 and make an appointment.

Retirements

DANIEL P. ZADOROZNEY, Wire Mill, was retired with benefits to start on October 1, 1954.

Mr. Zadorozney came to Scovill on May 26, 1919, and has a continuous service record of over 30 years. Always in the Wire Mill, he was serving as a shaped wire draw block operator when he retired.

Fishing Notes

By Jim Littlejohn

The 3rd round of the SERA Reeves Contest was held on Saturday, October 9th when 50 employees took part. The daily prize winners were:

Black bass: E. Kazmaier, 12³/₈"; perch: R. Anderson, 10"; bullhead: H. Rogers, 12⁷/₈"; trout: V. Manzolli, 13⁵/₈"; no pickerel and no calico were caught.

Some nice trout were caught. Maurice Gagne swears his perch was the largest, but a black cat settled the argument by picking up the fish and running off into the woods, poor Maurice.

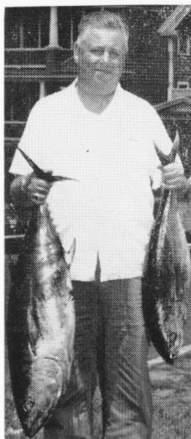

The 4th and final round for 1954 will be held on Saturday, October 23, when the championship will be settled. Come on boys, plenty of time yet.

The annual Banquet will be held on Thursday, November 4. Get your ticket early from any committee member or call ext. 562 for information. Reservations are limited.

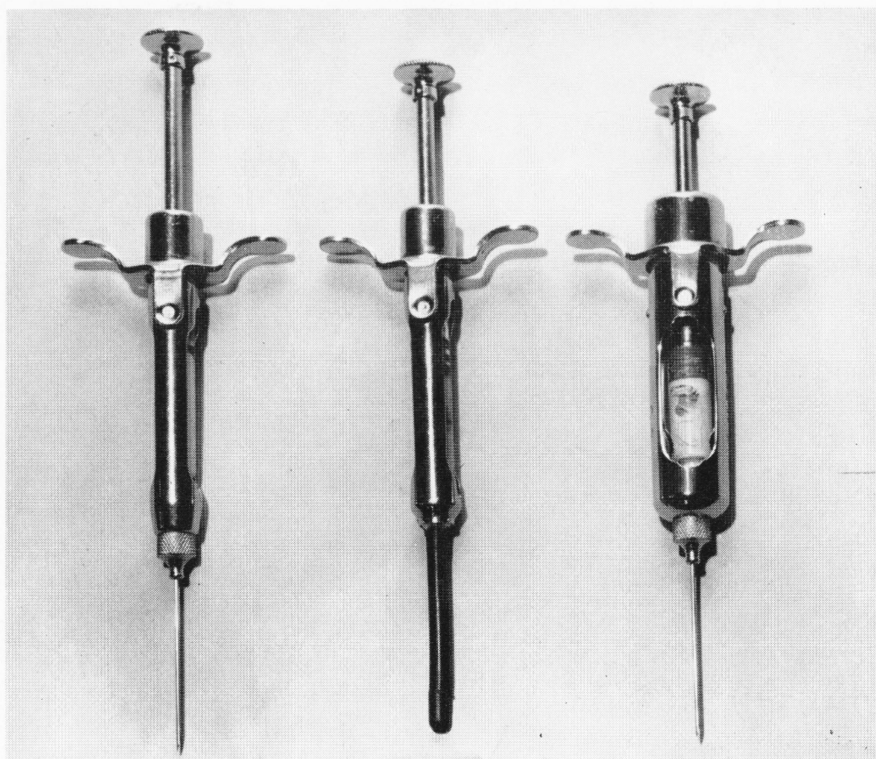

1000 fingerling brown trout were put in the pond for future fishing programs.

Wally Bergstrom (Milling and Grinding) had a fine time fishing for tuna off Montauk Point. He caught three fish weighing 50, 35 and 15 lbs. The boat "Lucky Strike" certainly lived up to its name.

Here's Wally with two of his three tuna. That's a lot of fish to eat!

Major Changes Made In Hypodermic

Here are three hypodermic syringes designed and produced by the Drug and Cosmetic Container Division. The first syringe as well as the third need to have needles attached. The middle one takes a vial which has its own needle. The third syringe is purposely made larger to take a 1-cc. or a 2-cc. vial depending upon which dosage is required.

Our Drug and Cosmetic Container Division specializes in the design and production of metal products for many industries. The fact that any product on the market today can be improved or developed into a better product carries on into the drug industry.

The hypodermic syringe, a product of the Drug and Cosmetic Container Division, is one example. Since drug manufacturers have been marketing their drugs in small dosage vials, major changes have had to be made in syringes.

Chromium plated brass syringes have been developed to hold the glass vials, thus eliminating the time consuming operation of sterilizing the syringes. Because the drug to be injected is enclosed in a vial, the fluid itself has no contact with the syringe.

Two of the three syringes of this type require the attachment of a needle. One of these two has been made to hold either a 1-cc. or 2-cc. vial. The third hypodermic syringe has no needle hub as the vial used has its own needle. This needle has a rubber covering to safeguard it from contamination before being used. The vial and needle, after the injection, are thrown away.

One of the latest hypodermic syringes (still in the development stage) also is made to hold a vial, but the major and important difference is that it has a concealed needle. This syringe is held against the skin and when the spring action needle is released a puncture is automatically made, the fluid then being injected into the designated area. This is ideal for the home user or for those people who object to the sight of a needle.

More injections are given every day and with the development of these barrel type syringes there is no problem of giving the wrong dosage and no danger of contamination. The time consuming operations of sterilization and the drawing of fluid into a glass syringe have been eliminated.

Are You "Just 21"?

If you become 21 years of age, and fill residence requirements by Election Day, November 2, you can still register to vote on that date.

A special session will be held at City Hall on Nov. 1, for those who complete age and residence requirements between Oct. 12 and Election Day.

Mrs. Anna Egan, Mrs. Marie Pinter and Miss Anna Garbarino (left to right above) are retiring from active service with a combined total of over 100 years' service. Pictured with them, at a party in their honor, are the Lacquer Room foremen they have served (left to right): Charles Rietydyke, John Meehan, present foreman Arthur Root, and Michael Toomey.

Dog Obedience Training

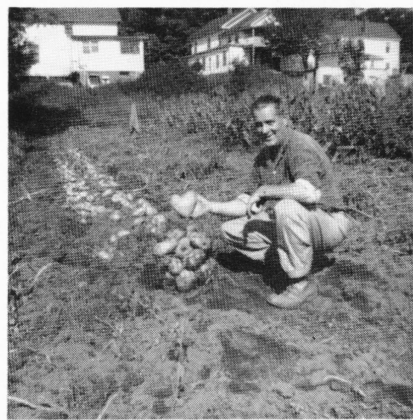

Obedience training classes for all dogs, sponsored by the SERA, are held every Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Doolittle Hall.

These classes are primarily for obedience-training, but anyone owning a pure-bred dog and who is interested in showing it in the breed ring, will find any exercises of the class routine very helpful in preparing the dog for breed shows. Only one dog per handler will be allowed.

New handlers with their dogs are accepted on the first Tuesday of every other month. Approximately every eight weeks, a test night is held and all handlers so qualified go on to the next class.

Training fees for Scovill employees, or members of their families, are $.50 per week; for other persons not associated with Scovill, $1. per week; for junior handlers, $.50 per week.

Heart-Shaped Spud

Something different from the potato patch is this heart-shaped spud weighing over two pounds grown by Armand Cote of North Mill Rolls. Armand planted two pecks of potatoes this year and harvested 20 bu.

Approximately 50 co-workers and friends gathered at the Scovill Girls' Clubhouse on September 30, 1954, to pay tribute to three ladies who are retiring from active service.

An interesting fact about these ladies is that they have worked together as a team for over 30 years and have spent most of their years of service in the Lacquer Room. Mrs. Pinter completed 40 years of continuous service, Miss Garbarino, 34 years; and Mrs. Egan, 32 years.

Each of the three ladies was presented a corsage, a box of candy, a purse and a lovely brooch as tokens of remembrance from the many friends who have come to love and respect them. Sincere wishes from all for the best of health and many happy years of retirement.

Two Succumb

WILLIAM REHBEIN, Electric Shell, died on September 30, 1954.

Mr. Rehbein was hired on April 7, 1916, and had a continuous service record since July of that year. He had been an employee in Electric Shell where he served as a toolsetter lead man on dial presses until January of 1954 when he was forced to leave because of illness.

WILLIAM SCOTT, Millwrights, died on October 10, 1954.

Mr. Scott was hired on August 17, 1917, which was also his continuous service record date. Always in Millwrights, he was serving as an oiler-maintenance man until June 4, 1954 when he was forced to leave due to illness.

Life Out East

By Harry Shewbridge

Business is picking up. Two items came to me unsolicited. Here they be.

Out of a newspaper: Recently a picture appeared in the local newspaper of Jim McGrath (Wire Mill) and his pal Pat DeSantis. It seems the boys were hauling them out of Long Meadow and Pat landed a 5 lb. 23 inch bass. Jim, not quite so successful, (but much more so than an office fisherman I know) landed a 4 lb. 21 inch bass. One of Jim's friends told me that the best part of whole picture was the two fish.

An ode to the Rod Mill Bowling Team by Mr. Anonymous.

First comes a guy called the Fox who wants a strike every box
The other team will never whine about him going over the foul line

Then there's Julie, noise maker supreme who keeps the other team off the beam
But you just about hear him mutter when he throws the balls down the gutter

Third, there's Rocco, called curveball Pete who just about stays on his feet
The ball along the edge of the alley skims and Rocco winds up with black and blue shins

Ah, now Tracy whose marks are very few who gets so mad he doesn't know what to do

He wound up more than once in a stew by chalking up a sparkling two

Here's Herb, the wild man's delight who threw them everywhere all night
First this side and then that anchor man he is called, but he should have a bat

But when all's said and done I know we'll have a lot of fun
I don't think we'll be a flop because we intend to be on top.
